

Garden/Healthy Food Grants - 2020

Arkansas Farm Bureau Outdoor Classroom Garden Mini-Grant Program

Deadline: Rolling

<http://www.arfb.com/pages/education/garden-grants/>

The Outdoor Classroom Garden Mini-Grant Program is designed to show that agriculture is an integral part of our everyday environment. Farms, wildlife, forestry, people and cities are all interrelated with agriculture. As most of Arkansas' wildlife resides on and feeds off of private property, including farms and timberlands, the gardens can demonstrate the connection between agriculture, food, fiber, conservation, wildlife and the urban environment.

Arkansas Flower and Garden Show – Greening of Arkansas Grant Program

Deadline: October 31, 2020

<http://argardenshow.org/about/greening-of-arkansas-grant-program/>

Applications are currently being accepted from community and civic organizations for beautification projects on public lands. Proceeds from the annual Arkansas Flower and Garden Show fund the Greening of Arkansas program. Awards are available up to $2,500, and smaller grants are awarded based on a project's merits and overall benefits to the community. The Greening of Arkansas program supports the development and ongoing care of community gardens, neighborhood parks and high-profile public green spaces in towns across Arkansas.

Carton to Garden Contest

Deadline: TBA

http://carton2garden.com/?utm_source=Body5&utm_medium=Copy&utm_campaign=C2G

Open to grades K-12 in all schools (public, private, or charter in the United States), it's a fun way to teach students about environmental stewardship, recycling, and repurposing materials, and how those concepts can have an impact on the lives of people, other creatures, and our environment. Winners will be based upon their best use of cartons in garden, and must submit photos and an entry form. All will be judged by compliance, quality, sustainability, and creativity.

Fruit Tree 101

Deadline: Rolling

<https://www.globalgiving.org/projects/fruittree101/>

As featured on The Today Show, "Fruit Tree 101" is a program that brings fruit tree orchards to schoolyards so students can improve the quality of the air and water while creating a source of tasty snacks for decades to come. Not only do our schoolyard fruit orchards help the environment, but they give your teacher an excuse to hold class outside when it's time for science lessons!

National Gardening Association Grants and Awards

Deadline: TBA

<https://kidsgardening.org/garden-grants/>

The Klorane Botanical Foundation is committed to supporting programs to teach respect for the environment and protect nature through the preservation of plant species and biodiversity. Designed to further their mission, the Budding Botanist Grant will help our youngest citizens learn about plants, explore their world and inspire them to take care of the life they discover in their local ecosystems. In 2018, six grant packages valued at $3,000 in cash and supplies will be awarded in six metro areas across the United States including Chicago, Kansas City (MO or KS), Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco, and Washington, DC. (One school will be chosen from each location.)

Seeds for Education

Deadline: closed for 2020

<http://www.wildones.org/seeds-for-education/sfe/>

Teachers and students across the United States are expanding learning opportunities by enhancing their schoolyards with butterfly gardens, nature trails, prairies, woodland wildflower preserves, and similar projects. These projects enrich the learning environment and provide aesthetic and environmental benefits. We offer assistance for all aspects of such projects. Cash grants under $500 are available for plants and seeds, and in-kind donations from Nursery Partners can help stretch these dollars. We can help you locate experts and information specific to your area—anywhere in the US. In the past decade, we've supported over a thousand such projects, and we can use this experience to help you.
